Intensive Program
Diversity Inclusion for Social Cohesion
 Protestant Academy Bad Boll

International students and expert resource persons representing diverse cultures will dialogue over contentious issues spanning sexuality, race religion, citizenship and ability-disability. The thematic emphasis of this intensive program is diversity inclusion for social cohesion as experienced in Europe today.

Participants are students of social work and related disciplines who have personal experience and commitment in addressing questions of inclusion and exclusion.

The content of this seminar includes cutting edge contributions from experts and scholars from related disciplines, as well as an interactive visit to the medieval city of Tübingen where community initiatives pioneered in projects of inclusion and civil rights.

The Bad Boll Academy with its long tradition of fostering political dialogue over conflictive positions is an ideal setting where practitioners in the social service professions will engage experts in discussions. We will examine how exclusionary practices in our society are effectively addressed by anti-discriminatory principles incorporated in international law.

We welcome you to the 2010 second implementation phase of the Erasmus Intensive Program in Diversity Inclusion for Social Cohesion.

We are looking forward to see you at the Protestant Academy in Bad Boll!
